Call for Submissions

A. General instructions

Deadlines

- The call for submissions will be open for all forms of contributions until January 31, 2027.
- Information on the acceptance of applications will be communicated to authors no later than April 15, 2027.
- High-quality contributions that are not accepted for the contributed paper presentations, automatically qualify for poster presentation with the authors' consent.

Submission - ConfTool

All submissions should be made via ConfTool (https://www.conftool.org/eaae2027/). The ConfTool submission system is open until 31 January 2027 for all three forms of contributions. Authors must enter all relevant data (uploads and contribution details) directly in the online system.

Review process

All contributed papers/posters will be reviewed by at least two reviewers. The review process is a central process to ensure high-quality contributions. It is expected that for each submitted paper/poster, the submitting author provides at least 3 reviews. Review responsibilities may be shared among co-authors; however, the submitting author is responsible for submitting the reviews. Failing to submit the assigned reviews by the due date will lead to the rejection of the submitted paper/poster. Additional reviews might be provided by the professional networks of the programme committee members if this is needed.

Organised sessions will be reviewed by the program committee based on the following criteria:

- Scientific rigour and originality (for Organised Paper Sessions): The quality, relevance, and novelty of both the proposed topic and the individual contributions;
- Stakeholder relevance (for Organised Panel Discussions): The relevance of the session for academics, practitioners, policymakers and/or industry representatives
- Value added of the format (for Organised Paper Sessions): Clear evidence of why the Organised Session format provides more value or insight than if papers were submitted individually;
- Clarity: The overall organisational quality and the feasibility of the proposed session structure;
- Cohesion: The degree of complementarity and logical flow between the individual contributions;

– Diversity and representation: a balanced range of perspectives, institutional affiliations, and career stages;

Specific submission guidelines

Detailed instructions for the preparation of contributed papers, posters and organised sessions are provided in separate documents available on the congress website (eaae2027.com/contributions). Please consult these specific guidelines before deciding which format is appropriate for your Organised Session proposal.

Note that a congress participant can only present a maximum of one (1) contributed paper or poster during the event. This rule does not preclude individuals from being co-authors of several papers or from organising multiple organised sessions.
